

Table of Contents (Convention 2017 “Modernization and Multiple Modernities” (ISPS Convention 2017))

Towards the Understanding of the Concepts “Modernity,” “Modernism” and “Avant-Gardism” in (Post)-Soviet and German Literary Theory (An Attempt of Terminological Unification)

T Simyan, I Kačane

Pages 1–31, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2462>

Cultural–Psychological Origins of the First Avant-garde: The Tiredness from Culture

L Zaks

Pages 32–48, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2463>

Evidence and Violence: Factography Evolution from the Avant-garde to the Absurd and Camp Prose

I Chubarov

Pages 49–58, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2464>

Problem of Social Engagement of the Historical Avant-garde: Social Effectiveness of Art and the Artist’s Responsibility

T Kruglova

Pages 59–75, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2465>

Cooperative Avant-garde: Rhetoric and Social Values of the New World of Arts in the System of the All-Russian Union of Artists’ Cooperatives ‘Vsekokhudozhnik’

G Yankovskaya

Pages 76–86, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2466>

Avant-garde in the Process of Transforming Anthropological and Ontological Artistic Myth-making of Modernity (19–20 centuries)

E Ustiugova

Pages 87–99, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2467>

Theoretical Foundations and Collective Programme of Constructivism in Russian Avant-garde Painting

T Borko

Pages 100–113, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2468>

Montage as the Meaning-generative Principle of Avant-garde: From Montage in Cinema to Montage in Theatre (Soviet and Post-Soviet Theatre and Cinema)

L Nemchenko

Pages 114–131, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2469>

Street Art in the Context of the Historical Avant-garde

M Chistiakova

Pages 132–145, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2470>

Avant-garde Magazines for Children in Siberia, 1920–1930 (Omsk, Novosibirsk, Irkutsk) in Siberia

K Abramova

Pages 146–161, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2471>

Dynamic Similarity: Outsider Art and Avant-garde

A Suvorova

Pages 162–174, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2472>

European Par Excellence. Several Remarks on Interpreting Soviet Urbanization in Siberia

K Nędza-Sikoniowska

Pages 175–189, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2473>

From the City-Plant to the Socialist City: Losses and Acquisitions of Human and Architecture

T Bystrova

Pages 190–202, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2474>

Soviet Constructivism as Social-reforming Way for a Life Reconstructing By Architectural Methods: The Reasons for the Forbidding

M Meerovich, K Lidin

Pages 203–215, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2475>

An Eldorado for the Working Class? The import of Constructivism and the Lubetkin Legacy

O Hatherley

Pages 216–230, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2476>

Tamanyan's Yerevan Between Constructivism and Stalin Era Architecture

L Abrahamian

Pages 231–241, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2477>

Memorial Representations of Working Class Quarters: Experiences of USSR and China

D Rud'

Pages 242–258, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2478>

«Birth of a Citizen»: Avant-garde Architecture and Transformation of Social Experience

L Piskunova, L Starostova, I Yankov

Pages 259–274, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2479>

Summer Season in the Working Settlement: From Mushrooms to People and Back.
Uralmash in Fiction and Non-fiction Literature About 1930s

N Gramatchikova

Pages 275–294, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2480>

A Heritage, a Project, an Art Space: How White Tower is Describing Now?

E Kochukhova

Pages 295–308, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2481>

New Languages of the Avant-garde and Symbolic “Opening” of the Soviet Urban Areas

M Ilchenko

Pages 309–318, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2482>

Theology at Russian State Universities: Incorporation Problems

S Astapov

Pages 319–327, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2483>

“Reading” Urban Religious Landscape in the Late 19th–Early 20

E Glavatskaya

Pages 328–336, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2484>

Saving the Native Faith: Religious Nationalism in Slavic Neo-paganism (Ancient Russian Yngling Church of Orthodox Old Believers-Ynglings and Svarozhichi)

E Golovneva

Pages 337–347, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2485>

Interaction of the Church and Society in Commemoration Campaigns Activated By Museum of Sanctity and Asceticism in the Urals in 20th Century

H Arkady (S Y Loginov), O V Ivanova

Pages 348–356, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2486>

Religions in Fictional Worlds: Infernal Religious Mythology in Fantasy Series

E Ivanova

Pages 357–364, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2487>

Political Language of the Church in the Post-Soviet Period

B Knorre, T Kharish

Pages 365–383, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2488>

Intellectual Humility in Public Discussion

V Kudashov, M Mosienko

Pages 384–393, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2489>

The Russian Ecclesiastical Mission in Jerusalem: History and Perspectives

E Palamarenko

Pages 394–405, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2490>

Moral Discourse as Resource of Publicity: Religious and Secular Alternatives

E Stepanova

Pages 406–415, <https://doi.org/10.18502/kss.v3i7.2491>